

THE UNIVERSITY of EDINBURGH
Edinburgh Law School

Association des Juristes Franco-Britanniques
Franco-British Lawyers Society

Regulating digital platforms: comparing the British and French Models

Friday, 25th of October 2019

1.30pm to 6 pm

Edinburgh University - Lister Learning & Teaching Building - Room 5.3

I. Platform regulation

1.40 The effectiveness of platforms' French legal obligations - Sylvain CHATRY, Senior Lecturer in IP/IT Law, University of Perpignan

2.00 Edge Computing and Demonstrating Accountability through the Databox - Lachlan URQUHART, Lecturer in Technology Law, University of Edinburgh

2.20 Platforms, trademark infringement and trust - Caroline LE GOFFIC, Senior Lecturer in IP Law, University of Paris V and Yann BASIRE, Associate Professor at CEIPI, University of Strasbourg

2.40 Regulating financial platforms on crypto assets - Amélie FAVREAU, Senior Lecturer in IP/IT Law, University of Grenoble

3.00 Questions

3.20 Break

II. Regulation of activities on platforms

3.40 The notion of subordination against platform workers - Stéphanie LE CAM, Lecturer in IP and Labour Law, University of Rennes

4.00 Not just Uber... taxi services, platforms and competition law in Italy: the MyTaxi decisions of the Italian Competition Authority - Arianna ANDREANGELI, Senior Lecturer in European Law, Edinburgh Law School

4.20 Platforms and the fight against fake news: the UK system, Rachael CRAUFURD-SMITH, Reader in Media Law, University of Edinburgh

4.40 Platforms and the fight against fake news: the French system, Nathalie MALLET POUJOL, Research director at CNRS, University of Montpellier

5.00 Digital Platforms and the Rise of Global Regulation of Hate Speech - Paolo CAVALIERE, Lecturer in Media Law, University of Edinburgh

5.20 Questions

Attendance at the event may qualify for 4 hours CPD. The event is accredited with the Faculty of Advocates in Scotland. Advocates in Scotland will be eligible to claim for 4 CPD hours. Solicitors in Scotland self-certify.

Hosted by the

In association with

THE UNIVERSITY of EDINBURGH
Edinburgh Law School

Sponsors

